SPRING SUCCESS

While this has been a routine for AMHA in the past, it is new to me, so forgive my excitement that AMHA received word that the Public Housing program was recognized by HUD as a High Performer in 2018. This winter staff overcame the huge challenge of 26 REAC inspections, which tested the physical condition of our developments. In addition, the High Performer designation takes into consideration the financial performance, management and operations. Not to be outdone, the Voucher Program received a perfect score in its performance assessment, and an award of recognition from HUD for their inspection pilot program. So I can’t emphasize enough how much this is a recognition of all the staff’s work including: placement, maintenance, property management, finance, recertification team, aids, special trades, and operations management as well as others that support us and make us great....
